

"If I could share one thing, it would be for dentists & patients to see what is possible. Too often we get mired in the present and our conditions. We lose hope and sight of what could be."

MICHAEL J MELKERS, DDS, FAGD,
Educator, Clinician, & Life Long Learner

Dr. Melkers has presented and has been published around the world on occlusion topics, communication and restorative dentistry applicable to the every day and the "some day" practice. He is the founder of the Nuts & Bolts Occlusion programs & has served as the Director of Occlusion & Aesthetic Dentistry at the Pacific Northwest AEGD Residency Program, as a mentor for The Pankey Institute and as visiting Faculty at The Spear Institute. He currently serves as an ad hoc reviewer for the Journal of Prosthetic Dentistry and as the Editor for American Equilibration Society. Dr. Melkers enjoys sharing real world challenges as well as solutions in his interactive learning experiences.

After practicing for 18 years in Washington State, Dr. Melkers has relocated to Hanover, NH where he is in private practice, with an emphasis on comprehensive aesthetic and restorative care. He balances his time between private practice, teaching, research and publishing.

WHY DR MELKERS WOULD BE A GREAT CHOICE FOR YOUR NEXT MEETING

Dr. Melkers brings an interesting mixture of rationale, methodology & implementation that make his programs quite unique. Dr. Melkers shares not only his successes but also the challenges that he has encountered during over 20 years of clinical practice and laboratory experience. It is important for him that participants in his programs not only understand the need for the skills, but how to incorporate them into their practices once they return. Having presented on 5 of the 7 continents, attendees around the world frequently describe his programs as engaging & interactive.
